UNMANNED SYSTEMS

Unmanned systems have become an essential part of modern warfare, playing a crucial role in reconnaissance, defense, and frontline operations.

They not only change the course of conflicts but also help save lives by reducing risks for soldiers.

Modern Military Drones in Scale

Inspired by their impact, we bring these advanced machines into the world of scale modeling with our 3D-printed resin kits.

Crafted with precision and attention to detail, our drone models allow hobbyists to expand their creativity, build realistic dioramas, and showcase the technology that defines today's battlefields.

UGV Liut

Ukrainian Strike Ground Drone on the Frontline of the War of the Future

3D-printed scale replica of the Ukrainian UGV Liut. One of the most recognized developments by Ukrainian engineers in the field of robotic combat platforms.

The model is available in multiple version and sizes

- with PKT and MAG Machine Guns
- in 1:72 and 1:35 scales.
- 1:16 scale coming in November

1:16 SCALE

UGV "LIUT" V2.0 WITH FN MAG — LATE 2025 CONFIGURATION

UGV Liut v2.0 in 1/16 scale is a version that reflects the late-2025 configuration of the real drone, created in collaboration with UGV Robotics, the developers of the actual combat platform.

This is not just a remaster — it is a fully reworked new generation of our model.

WHAT'S NEW IN VERSION V2.0?

- Updated antenna set that matches the latest configuration of the real combat drone.
- Single weapons option — FN MAG, the machine gun currently used on operational units.
- Refined wheels that accurately reproduce the modern prototype.
- Updated detailing to match the late-2025 configuration: suspension elements, bolts and fasteners, surface details, mounting points, and communication modules.

Crafted with passion for the hobby

We thoroughly studied photos, videos, and available technical materials to accurately capture the distinctive features of this machine: the silhouette of the hull, the weapon module, movable suspension, antennas, hinges, and even small technical elements.

You'll receive a highly detailed model that is enjoyable to assemble and impressive to display.

In association with UGVRobotics

Thanks to 3D-printing technology, we were able to achieve exact geometry in such a miniature drone, preserving even the smallest elements that would be nearly impossible to replicate by other means.

UGV Liut is more than just a model. It's a collectible item that reflects the modern reality of Ukraine's fight for its territory and independence — a symbol of Ukrainian ingenuity and the strength of resistance shown by both its military and people.

Which set version fits build best? — In short, both options allow modelers to choose the level of authenticity and storytelling they want to achieve.

Ordinary Wheels

Ideal for factory-fresh or parade-condition vehicles. They highlight a clean, well-maintained look and are perfect for models meant to represent newly produced or museum-restored machines.

Sagged Wheels

Add instant realism by simulating the natural weight and pressure of the vehicle on soft tires. They are best for combat-ready scenes, dioramas with terrain, or weathered vehicles showing the strain of battlefield conditions.

CTIS vs Non-CTIS versions

The Central Tire Inflation System (CTIS) is a feature on many modern military vehicles, including HIMARS, allowing drivers to adjust tire pressure directly from the cabin. This improves traction, mobility, and performance on different terrains, giving vehicles superior adaptability in combat conditions.

Wheels without CTIS
Wheels without CTIS feature a clean, straightforward hub design, offering a simpler and more rugged appearance. They're ideal for showcasing early or less-equipped vehicle variants, emphasizing practicality over advanced technology.

Wheels with CTIS
Wheels with CTIS include detailed air line connections and hub fittings that reflect the advanced engineering of modern combat vehicles. They add technical realism to models, highlighting the sophistication and versatility of machines like HIMARS.

M142 HIMARS High Mobility Artillery Rocket System

The M142 HIMARS (High Mobility Artillery Rocket System) is an American multiple launch rocket system developed by Lockheed Martin, mounted on a 6×6 chassis from the Family of Medium Tactical Vehicles (FMTV).

Designed to strike targets at ranges up to 300 km (with GMLRS or ATACMS missiles), HIMARS is known for its high accuracy, rapid deployment, and mobility.

HIMARS is in service with the U.S. Army and allied forces, and since 2022 has been actively used by the Armed Forces of Ukraine. It has become a symbol of technological superiority and effective artillery support on the modern battlefield.
